What is TeamLive?

TeamLive is the employee app for everything you need - it's Harri in the palm of your hand.

With TeamLive you can:

-  View, manage, and swap your shifts all from our handy app
-  Create absence requests and add your availability
-  Keep in touch with your teammates and managers through the in-app communications tool

TeamLive can also be accessed on desktop at harri.com/mcd_login

Crew members: You can login with your your McDonald's ID starting _____ via the App or Harri.com/mcd_login

Ask your manager for more information about getting set up on TeamLive.

We invite you to use harri.com/mcd_login for viewing your schedule. There may be a tablet in the restaurant where you work where you are able to request time off, initiate a shift swap or drop, and request changes to availability by using the TeamLive App on that tablet. If there is not please speak to your manager to initiate a schedule change or discuss availability. This poster is to advise you that you can, if you choose to do so, download the Teamlive App to your personal device. Your employer is not asking or requiring you to download and use the Teamlive App from your personal device. Downloading the app and using it that way is completely voluntary. You do not need to download and use the Teamlive App in order to perform your job or to get your schedule or make changes to your schedule. If you voluntarily decide to download and use the TeamLive App it is recommended that you turn off all notifications.
